My many years of operational experience as a leader in large and medium-sized well-known enterprises drive me to support individuals in their personal growth and professional career. I do that with all my heart. It makes me happy to enable and empower them to become stronger leaders and strive for their personal performance goals. The sustainable development of companies and teams has always inspired me. As a young leader up to this day I have always asked myself what I can improve for tomorrow? Everyday better. Now I support leaders in lifting their potential with courage and fun. As a business coach, I also accompany them when facing challenges in change. I train and coach in German and English.

Endorsements (Translated from German)

„We have engaged Ms. Stuber for the second time for our European management development program, in which she takes the participants into the world of leadership, communication, change and conflict management. All of this she puts in practice in a incredibly creative, motivating and appreciative way, so that this program became a great success again. Even the change from classroom training to online training worked wonderfully. We are looking forward to the next rounds with Ms. Stuber!”

„Ms. Stuber was a very competent, pragmatic and friendly business partner from the conception to the implementation of the training. She was valued highly by our managers who participated in her training courses thanks to her professional and invigorating implementation of the training. I am happy to recommend her services.“
